

“When people feel that their contributions are unappreciated, they will stop trying. And when that happens, innovation dies.”

--Mark Sanborn