

Ms Tucker's Goal Progress Analysis

My Goal: I want my students to plan and carry out a service project apply the skills they've in a real life situation.

Write specifically what is happening now towards achieving your goal under Opportunity and the Benefits and Obstacles for each where appropriate.

Benefit/Obstacle

The groups were formed and we did some processing activities - coming up with questions as a group, pair/share, brainstorming, Expectation 5 video clip, and songs, etc. I asked each group to select their own quote and song to represent their idea for their class presentation.

The students really got into finding possible projects . I'm noticing that all the students are participating and so far the groups have been working well together.

I'm finding that the students have so many ideas that I'm having to rein in their plans to what is really possible. It's exciting to see the enthusiasm, but just have to temper it with reality.

Rubric has been a great tool to keep them on track.
