

“We need to think of our tongue as a messenger that runs errands for our heart. Our words reveal our character.”

— Charles Swindoll